

Order Cancellation and Return Policy. Under the Cancellation Policy, the customer can choose to cancel an order any time before it is dispatched. The order cannot be canceled once it is out for delivery. However, the customer may choose to reject it at the doorstep. The time window for cancellation varies based on different categories, and the order cannot be canceled once the specified time has passed. In some cases, the customer may not be allowed to cancel the order for free after the specified time, and a cancellation fee will be charged. The details about the time window mentioned on the product page or order confirmation page will be considered final. In case of any cancellation from the seller due to unforeseen circumstances, a full refund will be initiated for prepaid orders. Flipkart reserves the right to accept the cancellation of any order. Flipkart also reserves the right to waive off or modify the time window or cancellation fee from time to time.

Under the Cancellation Policy for Hyperlocal orders, the orders placed by you on the Platform are non-cancellable and non-refundable via self-serve under the MINUTES delivery option owing to quick delivery times, except if cancellation or refund is requested through a CX Agent under the following circumstances. Cancellation or refund may be requested if the order could not be delivered within the estimated time that was displayed while placing the order, if the order has not been picked by the Delivery Partner, if the Seller has not accepted or has canceled the order due to reasons not attributable to you, under Easy Doorstep Cancellation, or for any other reason that the Platform may update from time to time. The Platform reserves the right to cancel your order, in whole or in part, for reasons including product unavailability, unforeseen circumstances beyond its control (force majeure), suspected fraudulent activity, violation of the Terms of Use, or logistical constraints. In all instances of cancellation initiated by the Platform, you will not be charged for the canceled order. Any payments already made will be promptly refunded within 5 to 7 business days for any cancellations. You can track the status of your refund on the Order Details page or section. The return, cancellation, and refund policies may be subject to additional reasonable terms and conditions. These will be communicated to you periodically through the Platform's push notifications or other communication methods as outlined within these Terms or as determined by the Company.
